"UNFOCUSED," Photography. The images are a study in movement that are unfocused intentionally to give a impressionist flavor. This work is a departure from the very clear, sharp and graphic realism that I had been doing for the last five years, its just the opposite. Most of the color is either muted or pumped up, nothing is quite as it would appear in the real world. The subject matter is mostly water scape's taken in Israel, Italy, Japan, Jordan and Martha's Vineyard.
